

SCTR 15 Texting God

Day in the Archives: The Saint John's Bible Friday, November 15

We will meet in the Library Archives for class at our usual class time

Rules

- You will be asked to leave your backpack at the front desk.
- You can only use pencils, rather than ink pens, in the Reading Room.
- You cannot use laptops in the Archives.
- You can't bring any food or drink into the Archives.
- Please wash your hands before you come to class. That way, if you like, you can touch some of the books.

Class and Hands-on Introduction to The Saint John's Bible

Archivist Kelci Baughman-McDowell will introduce us to The Saint John's Bible, the techniques for producing handwritten manuscripts, the intertextuality of its illuminations, and some of the illuminations that will be relevant for some of your research projects. Then you'll be divided into teams, one per volume, and explore the intertextuality of the images yourself in an in-class exercise.
